Reports from a few Taluks were received in January and February 1913 while a few others were received in April 1911. A perusal of the reports showed that the Government order and the instructions issued thereunder by this office were not clearly understood so much so the several Unions reported on the merits of the Scheme generally stating that it was good and might be tried without giving effect to the instructions as was directed. This necessitated the issue of further instructions again to try the March 1911, I have the honour to state that out of the seven Taluks and one Sub Taluk in the District, there are no Unions in the Holenarasipur Taluk and in the Alur Sub Taluk. Of the remaining Taluks there is only one Union in each of the three Taluks of Hassan, Manjarabad and Belur and the remaining three Taluks of ~~Hassan~~ Arsikere, Chennarayapatna and Arkalgud, contain 6, 4 and 6 Unions respectively.

2. The Amildars of Hassan, Manjarabad and Channarayapatna Taluks report that as the unions in their respective Taluks are not big enough to divide them in-to wards, it was not so done. In the Anekal Taluk, the Union of Dommasandra was divided into 2 wards for the purpose and each ward was placed under the supervision of 3 members. In Closepet, the Unions of Bidadi and Jalamangala were divided into 3 wards with one member in charge - the others members supervising by turns. The appointment of panchayetdays in Government Notification No.3910-L.B./230-09-7 dated 22-11-1911 brought 76 new Unions into existence. The reports received from talukas shew that the system as detailed in the Government order under reference has not been brought into force either in old or new Unions. The major portion of the Unions being new and the villagers of some Unions being still averse to Union administration, no trial has yet been given to the system in question. The matter will be placed before the District Board when they meet in February next and large and important Unions where the ward system may be tried, will be selected. A report as to how the system works in such places will be submitted at the end of the next official year.

In some of the larger Unions in this District the system was given a trial. Each Union was divided into wards and the members thereof were entrusted with the supervision of the work of the conservancy staff, of public works executed in those Unions as also of the collection of Mohatarfa taxes. It is reported that in the Unions of the Harihar Sub Taluk and in a Union of the Davangere Taluk, the system is working fairly well. The Amildar of the Hosdrug Taluk reports that it requires some time more for the members to realise their responsibility in this respect while the Amildar of the Molakalmuru Taluk states that since the introduction of this system much improvement is seen with regard to the affairs of the Union Panchayats.

Steps are being taken to allot larger funds for expenditure in the Unions and when this is done the Union members will doubtless take greater interest in the progress of their wards.
